

Almondz Refund & Cancellation Policy

Transaction and Refunds:

Transactions on the Almondz platform are considered complete only after a successful transfer of funds from your bank account to Almondz. Once finalized, transactions cannot be canceled. In cases where a failed transaction results in a deduction from your bank account, the refund will follow your bank's refund policy, and Almondz cannot be held responsible for any delays.

Refund Policy for Account Opening:

Account opening fees are non-refundable once your Trading and Demat accounts are activated. However, refunds are available for any excess payment made during the account opening process, pending confirmation from Almondz's banking partner.

Payments After Account Activation:

After your Demat account is opened, all further payments will be credited to your account, with no refunds provided. You may initiate a withdrawal through the Almondz Trade App or the web platform.

Limitation of Liability:

Almondz is not responsible for any indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages, including lost profits or data. In all cases, Almondz's liability will be limited to foreseeable damages directly related to a breach of responsibility.

Intellectual Property Rights:

All intellectual property associated with the Almondz platform—including software, content, designs, and trademarks—remains the exclusive property of Almondz. No proprietary rights or licenses are transferred to users through their use of the platform.

Breach of Terms:

Any breach of the Terms of Use is considered a detrimental business practice that can cause irreparable harm to Almondz. In such instances, Almondz reserves the right to seek legal remedies, including injunctive or equitable relief. Should Almondz need to initiate legal action, you agree to cover all reasonable legal costs and expenses in addition to any other applicable relief.

Account Suspension and Termination:

These Terms of Use will remain effective until either you or Almondz decide to terminate them. If you disagree with the terms or are dissatisfied with the platform, you may close your account or stop using it. Almondz reserves the right to terminate accounts or limit access if a user breaches the Terms of Use or applicable laws.
